

Letter: Those who love Pryors are promoting them

Posted: Tuesday, September 4, 2007 11:00 pm

A coalition of groups concerned about the Pryor Mountains has developed a new Web site, at www.pryormountains.org, that makes it easy and enjoyable to learn about, explore and help protect this unique resource. The coalition consists of Audubon, the Yellowstone Valley Society; Beartooth Backcountry Horseman; The Frontier Heritage Alliance; Our Montana Inc.; and Eastern Wildlands Chapter of Montana Wilderness Association.

The Pryor Mountains help make Montana and the Billings region special. Rich and unique in ecology, archeology, paleontology and a host of other -ologies, the Pryor landscape also promotes healthy psychology. Let the Web site's beautiful photography show you why.

Dave Klarich

Billings